Overview

Pat Devine is a partner in Ice Miller's Litigation Group. The focus of his practice is construction and project delivery methods with emphasis in contract, prevailing wage, and competitive bid disputes.

Pat's background as a former Ohio assistant attorney general, in addition to his current practice, provides a unique combination of private and public sector experience. Pat advises his clients regarding project delivery systems, competitive bidding issues, contractor requirements, workers' compensation, prevailing wage compliance and public contract law in an effective and efficient manner. Devine's depth and breadth of legal experience combined with his superior level of professional integrity has earned him Martindale Hubbell's highest rating. He has earned the professional accreditation of LEED Green Associate.

Pat has argued numerous cases before the Ohio Supreme Court, all state courts of appeals, the United States Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, and he has submitted briefs to the United States Supreme Court. He has represented the executive offices of the State of Ohio, the Ohio Department of Transportation, the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services and regulatory bodies including, the Ohio Real Estate Commission, the Ohio State Racing Commission.

In addition to representing a trade association of heavy/highway contractors, Pat advises contractors and owners on construction issues, including project labor agreements, mechanics' lien law, and regulatory compliance.

Pat is a frequent lecturer on prevailing wage issues, public contracting, mechanics' lien law. He has authored and edits Chapter 5 "State Appeals and Other Challenges to State and Local Administrative Actions" in the Ohio Administrative Law Handbook, as well as numerous articles on construction and employment related issues.
